Faculty: Heather Oberheim teaches early childhood Music & Movement at the Music School throughout the year. She also travels to other sites to teach through the School's Music in the Community Initiative (MICI), including programs with pre-school special needs children and Laconia teens enrolled in an early childhood education program. Oberheim earned her undergraduate degree at Colby-Sawyer College, majoring in psychology with a concentration in dance. She also holds a master's degree in dance movement therapy from Antioch New England Graduate School.

The mission of the Concord Community Music School is to foster a sense of community through music by providing the fullest possible array of musical experiences for people of all ages, musical abilities, and backgrounds.
